FUL USE QUICKLY LEARNED.

The Electropoise is an Instrument for the
CURE OF DISEASE
WITHOUT MEDICINE.

BASED ON NEW PRINCIPLES OF THE CURE OF disease, it deals with the electrical and magnetic conditions of the body and the exhaustion of the system, controlling these conditions at will. It is not electricity, DISEASE is simply impaired vitality. The electropoise constantly adds to the vitality and only acts as nature, in nature's way, to throw off the trouble.

A 40 page book, describing treatment and containing testimonials from all classes, and the cure of all diseases, mailed FREE on application.

Youthful Elopers.
Beesie Chaffee, not quite 16, eloped Tuesday from her home in Springfield, a village about twelve miles from Buffalo, N. Y., with Charles Howell, 18 years of age.
They had been sweethearts, an attachment having been formed while they were attending the academy. Miss Chaffee is a daughter of Carl Chaffee and a niece of the Hon.
Burt Chaffee. About a year ago the father learned of his daughter's infatuation for the young man, and he sent her to a Rochester convent. Two months ago she left the convent and went home. After this the father secretly and the subsequent elopement was planned. On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Chaffee attended a concert. Miss Chaffee remained at home under the plea of being sick, but in fact to carry out well-laid plans.

Howell had told a pitiable tale of a father tyrannical in opposition to the youthful lover, and solicited the sympathy of a farmer named Bob Woodward, living six miles east of the village. While the father and mother were at the theatre the girl packed a trunk with her belongings, and Woodward carried it that night to Yorkshire. The next morning Miss Chaffee started ostensibly for school, but instead she and Howell were taken in a hay rack, hidden under a bundle of hay, to Yorkshire, where they took a train for Frankfort.

A telegram was sent to the family which informed them of the pair's flight and intentions. The angry father and uncle employed men to search for the girl and the young man. The search so far has been fruitless.
Mr. Chaffee says he will prosecute if well for at least 50, as the girl is not yet 16 years old.

Young Howell comes of a respected and wealthy family. At his home in Springfield he is known as "the duke." When he eloped with the girl he had only $11, the proceeds of a pawned watch. Miss Chaffee is racy-checked, vivacious, and pretty.

GIANT PICKETT NELSON'S BIG COFFIN.
The remains of the colored giant, Pickett Nelson, were sent from the residence 1110 Warren street, where he died, to Essex county, Va., yesterday on the steamer Richmond, of the Western line. Hundreds of persons visited the house where the giant died during the day and looked at the dead man. Hercules Ross, the undertaker, arrived during the afternoon with the coffin, which measured 8 feet 3 inches long, and 20 inches deep and 23 inches wide. The coffin had 8 strong handles. The plate was engraved as follows: "Pickett Nelson, died January 19, 1892, aged 31 years." The remains had to be taken from the house through a window. T. J. Hurd, manager of the show to which the giant belonged, was at the house during the day, and a large wreath of flowers near the coffin was a present from him. The mother and sister of the dead giant were expected on the steamer Richmond, but did not come. The body will be accompanied to Virginia by D. Richardson and T. J. Hurd. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church in King and Queen county, Va., of which Rev. D. Brodus is pastor, and he will be buried in the cemetery attached to the church. His home was in Essex county, near the border of King and Queen county, on the Rappahanock.—Balt. Sun.

A REMARKABLE STORY.—James White, a seafarer from Honolulu, who has arrived at San Francisco, tells a remarkable story of his adventures in the south seas. Last May he deserted from an American ship in Sydney and shipped on a schooner for a trading voyage among the islands of the Pacific.
Soon after leaving the Australian coast guns were brought up from the hold and White was told they were to be sold to the islanders. The vessel carried a crew of 15 men, commanded by Capt. Colton, a southerner.
At the first place the vessel touched five young girls were forcibly abducted; the natives pursued in a canoe, but were fired upon, six or eight being killed; the canoe was overturned and the rest were devoured by sharks. Two weeks later the vessel touched at another island and in a fight with natives one of the crew was killed and the mate's arm broken. At another island a lot of sandal wood was stolen and the schooner was chased by a French gunboat, but got away. At the Guano Islands White deserted and made his way to Honolulu.

LEFT HEADLESS WHERE HE SAT.—Monday morning, soon after operations had begun for the day in the D. S. Morgan Resper Works at Beardsport, N. Y., a loud explosion was heard in the glazing shop. A rash was made for that part of the works.
Herbert Weed, who ran an emery wheel, was found sitting in his usual place at the wheel, headless. The wheel was missing.
It had burst while running at high speed and one of the flying pieces had torn Weed's head from his body. Weed was 35 years old and leaves a wife.
